NEW YORK HERALD, MONDAY, JUNE 22, 1868.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SUNDAY, June 21, 1868. There was a good investment and foreign dema for United States stocks during the past week, and the market for them was on the whole strong, th variable in point of activity, prices be disiderably higher at the close than they were at The dulness and slight depression in evious week, following the extreme activity oyancy which preceded it, strengthened the vard tendency of prices by showing the public t notwithstanding the large sales to realize profits re made, and the efforts of many of the aters to depress prices for the purpose of buying, the market remained firm at an average decline of less per cent from the highest point touched in of the May excitement. That the tenprices for our national securities is towards ension of specie payments is obvious for sev-In the first place, nearly the whole of the he end of the first week in July the remainder, exen converted like the rest into five-twenty The gold bearing debt will therefore have ed. The demand will, however, continue as fore and probably be stimulated by this fact, and the on prices is easily foreseen. In the next arly thirty-two millions of coin interest on dition to about eight millions of the principal of se bonds of 1848, and a large portion of this will out thirty millions of semi-annual interest dends will become payable by corporations ell the aggregate demand for investment. Mean ere is a great improvement in the foreign e at Frankfort, where a marked change for the been going forward since the first vote of the ns have steadily advanced in the interval. The twenties of 1862 are held most largely abroad, those of the issue of 1865 are also popular there, d the fact of these being more than two per cent han the others, while the accrued interest m is the same, is calculated to create a better for them until the price of both issues is which will ultimately be the case. The investment demand is almost exclusively for ssues of five-twenties, and particularly 1867. The high prices now current for liway and other speculative shares make governcks in the country, for they are relatively much wer than the former. The prevailing glut of money a large demand for them, for the employment of tile funds, from the banks, trust companies and ther corporations, and there is, as a matter of e, considerable speculation in anticipation of the natural effect of these combined causes in advancing quotations permanently towards a higher

The railway share market was very firm throughout the week, and more active than usual of late. rticularly as regards. Reading, Cleveland and Pittsurg and Northwestern common and preferred. The st marked advance was in Reading, which is still atively lower than the other leading stocks, and demand for it is well distributed and based upon a belief that it will command a upon its merits as an investment. A demand for the stock is also reported adelphia, from which orders have received here to a considerable extent The rise has less the appearance of a specuwho believe in the superior value of the perty; but a certain amount of speculation is d the street generally has been buying it under ression that it is going considerably higher. e activity in the North western stocks was somewhat by the commencement of a suit to restrain stock dividend, which has been declared yable on the 29th inst. The case is to come up for result of the application for a permanent on is awaited with interest. That the pracof unnecessarily and indiscriminately "watering" ocks in this manner is a pernicious one cannot be natance he tested. The company, however, de-New York Central and Erie throughout heavy and neglected, and the former is selling so much real value that the street is afraid to touch it. An effort was made to create a flurry in Pacific Mail on Saturday afternoon by one or two professional speculators and the price was "washed" up slightly; but there is no change in the relations of the Pacific Mail Company and the opposition. The temper of the railway share market is very bullish, and with money at three and four per cent the bulls control the course of prices. The bears are, therefore, unwilling to oppose the prevailing sentiment, and the opposition to a further rise is hardly perceptible, high as

The gold market was very firm and active during the week, and the fluctuations were from 140 to 141%, with the closing transactions at 140%. The advance to the highest point was due to the efforts of speculators for a rise, who on Wednesday morning made cash gold appear so scarce that loans were made as bigh as 5-32 per cent per diem for borrow ing, although within two hours afterwards it became inciently abundant to cause loans to be made with out interest to either borrower or lender, this sudden change being partly in consequence of borrowers having supplied their wants early in the day, but still more to the bulls selling out for cash, and the high rates previously paid having caused outside holders of coin to send it into the Gold Room for employment, and thus the export of specie was materially curtailed, the aggregate for the week having been less than $1,900,000, making a total from the port of a little more than twenty eight millions since the 22d of March. The amount of coin in the banks of this city has been in consequence reduced to $9,124,830. The week's customs receipts at the port amounted to $1,866,870, and the sub-Treasury disbursed $233,000 in coin in payment of interest on the public debt and $1,352,000 in redemption of the bonds of 1848, which mature on the 1st proximo.

The statement of the associated banks of this city for the week ending yesterday is favorable to prolonged case in the loan market, although the specie shows a further decrease of $2,088,801, owing to continued withdrawals for export and the payment of customs duties. The legal tender notes have increased $3,364,742, however, and the deposits $313,622, notwithstanding the deduction of the loss in specie. The limited demand for money is indi-cated by the decrease of $1,024,416 in loans. The only other change is a decrease of $47,726 in the circulation. The totals of the last two statements are as subjoined:-

Loans $25,142,024 Specie 11,194,631 Circulalation 34,166,846 $274,117,609 9,124,830 34,119,120 211,454,387 72,567,582

The foreign exchange market was on the whole steady and quiet, and bankers were unwilling to draw unless at rates permitting of the shipment of specie against their bills. Some of the leading drawers asked 110 % for their sterling at sixty days. but second hand the best rate was 110%. Commercial bills continue in very limited supply, and especially those representing shipments of cotthe ports for the week ending on Friday being stated at only 2,830 bales, while the stocks at all the ports are reduced to 124,400 bales, against 255,000 bales at the same time last year. (From the San Francisco Alta California, May 25.)
The mortal remains of the Hon. James A. McDougali were deposited yesterday afternoon in the family vault at Lone Mountain Cemetery, and within a few bundred yards of where He entombed the bodies of his Senatorial predecessors, Broderick and Baker. The obsequies were conducted by the Masonic Praternity. At one o'clock the corpse was removed from Masonic Hall and placed in a hearse, attached to which were four gray horses, clad in mournraternity. At one o'clock the corpse was removed from Masonic Hall and placed in a hearse, attached to which were four gray horses, clad in mourning robes. A very long procession followed the remains through Montgomery, Washington and Stockton streets. The pail-bearers on the part of the clitzens were Messrs. Lorenzo Sawyer, O. C. Pratt, S. H. Dwineli, E. W. McKinstry, Thompson Campbeli, Samuel Purdy, J. W. McCorkie, Gregory Yale, John J. Williams, S. H. Brady, John Nugent and General William T. Wallace. The centre pews of the church were reserved for the intimate friends of the deceased, pailbearers and fellow Masons. The side slips were fully occupied by the time the cortege reached the church. It was met at the front entrance on Stockton street by the rector, Rev. James Bush, and Assistant Pastor, Rev. Mr. Easton. The ciergymen, preceding the confin, walked up the broad iste, the rector reading the Soriptural selections for the burial of the dead. Meanwhile a plantitive dirge was played on the organ, and as the deep notes swelled and re-echoed through the grand edifice the sad interest of the occasion was greatly enhanced. The assistant pastor next read the fifteenth chapter of Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians, after which the accomplished vocalist, Mrs. Lizzle Northrup, sang with thrilling effect the beautiful lines commencing "I know that my Redeemer liveth." No sermon was preached, and the solemn services closed by reading an appropriate prayer and benediction. A large number of those present, besides palibearers and Masons, accompanied the remains to their final resting place, among whom we noticed the Governor and several distinguished personages from the interior of the State, At the tomb the imposing ritual of the Masonic fraternity was pronounced, and all that is mortal of one of the soles and most gifted of California's statesmen now sieeps in the bosom of the State fie loved so well.

THE CONFLAGRATION AT MARQUETTE, WIS.—The Detroit Tribune has received further particulars of the recent fire at Marquette. The aggregate loss is estimated as high as $1.500,000. The residences destroyed were mostly fine ones, including those of B. P. Robbins, John McGregor, John Lewis, P. M. Everett and Peter White. The Commercial Hotel and the Tremont House were burned—both frame hotels. The people are very reticent, and dislike talking of insurance or losses, from which it may be inferred that the former were slight and the latter most disastrous. There is no danger of an immediate scarcity of provisions, as the supply saved was considerable, and with that to be had at Negaunee would carry the population through some time, while Chicago is distant from Marquette but twenty-four hours by rail. The cargo of the steamer Northwest was not destroyed, she arriving just as the fre was raging.
